

The Oxbow Eco-Center
and Treasure Coast Art Association present the

Spirit of Nature Art Camp

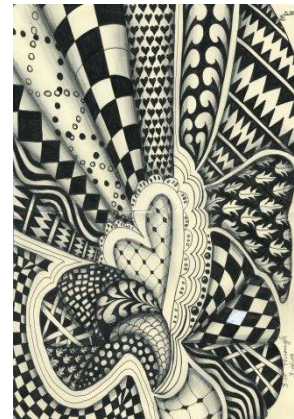

Immerse yourself in nature and release your creative spirit with the Oxbow Eco-Center and Treasure Coast Art Association's (TCAA) Spirit of Nature Art Camp, July 26 through July 30 from 8:30am to 12:30pm.

Participants ages 11 through 16 will create their own nature journals and use them to practice drawing, creative writing, and mastering the art of Zentangles. Campers will also create three-dimensional art using clay, wood, and even plaster of Paris to make animal guide masks. Finally, students will leave a lasting legacy by creating an entranceway rug for the Oxbow Eco-Center.

The Spirit of Nature Art camp is designed for the nature enthusiast with a creative spirit. TCAA artists will help participants develop skills in drawing and painting techniques, color mixing, observation of light and shadows, and creation of art using nature and artifacts for inspiration.

The cost of the camp is $80 per person. There are a few spaces left, so call now (772) 785-5833 or e-mail Shannon Dack at dacks@stlucieco.org.

The Oxbow Eco-Center is a St. Lucie County Environmental Learning Center located at 5400 N.E. St. James Drive, Port St. Lucie, FL 34983
